Written over 2003-2004, the book is a reflection on perspectives, and how various perspectives all around the world at all times are leaving their impressions into the epistemological and metaphysical soup of Existence. The narrative begins in a recent past and culminates in the not too distant future (futuristic setting also helps to emphasize that situations and characters are fictional representations of non-fictional sentiment). Quotes and alternate titles are all meant as homage to previous (master)works. The reader should change time periods (there is a blank space that leads many chapters) as inventions and innovations are discovered.
